

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Greenhouse Studios Partners with investor Skinnervision to produce feature length mob drama Carried By Six.

Burbank, California – April 25, 2011 – Greenhouse Studios together with Executive Producer Marcus Spence, will begin production on Carried By Six, a gripping modern day gangster saga about a drug-dealing philanthropist.

Greenhouse Studios is a visionary digital media solutions provider founded in Los Angeles in 2008, as a combined production and post-production house. Their mission is to provide economical yet quality services in media creation and distribution. This includes assisting in the production and delivery of feature films, TV programs, documentaries, and music productions. In addition, they have a slate of independent features in various stages of development, production and post-production. The one that they are currently most excited to bring to the big screen is the thrilling Carried By Six.

This film tells the tale of Thelonius “Mize” Mizzell, drug kingpin of the Midwest. After spending his entire life climbing the ranks of Cleveland’s dangerous underworld, Mize has decided to leave his life of crime behind and become a legitimate private citizen. Before he can do this, however, he must fend off threats to his family, his business, and everything that he was worked so hard to establish. The gangster genre has always been a vehicle for reflecting on the American way of life, and the character of Mize is prime to become just that – an American icon.

Greenhouse found the piece as a result of in-house screenwriter / director Marquette Williams. Thanks to Executive Producer and liaison Marcus Spence, who is the President of Timbaland's highly celebrated record label “Mosley Music Group”, Skinnervision will financially back the project.

Skinnervision, a company whose goal is to promote multimedia access and distribution, will be funding the production of Carried By Six for $10 million. Casting is set to begin in the next few weeks.
